Especially in the service industry Ghanaians have an excellent reputation. A very warm welcome is awaiting you. We are pleased to explain a few important details and guide you through the process.

Who we are

Dutch Technology Centre (DTC) is an engineering and consultancy company that is active in Ghana since the beginning of the '80s. We have conducted successful or less-successful projects for WorldBank, United Nations, USAid and various Ministries. DTC is registered with GIPC under the Investment law of Ghana. After a drastic upgrading of the board in 1996 we have been continuing participating in nations' economic complicated society.

Why are we doing this

When we participated in the construction of the Regional Hospital in Cape-Coast under authority of Hon Eunice Emissa-Broekman, (later Ambassador in The Hague) our attention was called for the great surplus of medical staff that was available to fulfil vacancies. Observing the recent -nationwide- demonstration that called Minister's attention for this dilemma, we decided to play our role as a social responsible company and to participate in a solution. We used our chance to vigorously express our interest in participating in Ghana's economical progression.

Your interest is protected

To arrive at an utmost efficient scenario whereby the staff members are very well protected in their position as expatriate, we decided to involve departments that are in authority in Ghana as well as in The Netherlands. In Ghana the authority is with the Ministry of Health and The Ministry of Employment & Labour Relations. In the Netherlands the authority is with a special for this project established independent entity: MedicalBrokers.de
